3 ARE DEAD IN FLORIDA HOME BLAZE

Largo, Fla. (AP) — Three agencies are investigating the fire that destroyed a one-story frame nursing home yesterday, taking the lives of 32 elderly patients and a valiant nurse who tried to save them.

Investigations were started today by the state fire marshal, the State Hotel Commission and Sheriff Sid Sanders.

Twenty-five patients were saved as neighbors turned out barefooted and in nightgowns to back up the rescue efforts of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Littlefield. Fire companies from Largo and Clearwater also came quickly, but within half an hour the sprawling wooden structure was doomed.

The tragedy cost 34 lives in all. August D. Smith, Pinellas county welfare director, was killed in an automobile collision while driving three patients to a hospital.

Many of the victims died in their beds, unaware of the danger that suddenly roared at them about 8:30 on a chilly Sabbath morning.

Of those who gained consciousness, some were too panicky to follow directions; some were too blindfolded and some too old and feeble.

The Littlefields were sleeping in a home with the patients. Littlefield said he was awakened by the screams of a woman. He tried to fight the flames with fire extinguishers, saw he was losing, and began waking up patients and trying to get them out.

Mrs. Littlefield ran outside, screaming for help, and collapsed with a heart attack. She is in serious condition.

Cause of the fire remains a mystery. The patients ranged in age from 45 to 98, with most of them above 65.

Slash In Appropriations To Local School Districts Is Being Considered By GOP Leaders

Dragon Band to Play At State Hospital

Between 70 and 80 members of the Warren High School Dragon Band, with Director Harry A. Summers, will be guests of Warren State Hospital Tuesday evening, presenting their mid-winter concert program at 7:30 o'clock in the hospital auditorium. Approximately 1,000 patients, with staff and employees, are expected to enjoy the event.

Following the program, the young people will be served a light lunch as a small token of the institution's appreciation for their contribution to the patients' enjoyment.

Harrisburg (AP) — A 20 per cent slash in total state appropriations to local school districts and sharp reductions in other state government costs were under consideration of Republican leaders of the Legislature today as one way to balance the state budget without new taxes.

The proposal would slice $106,000,000 from the state's aid - to - education program. That would leave it up to individual school districts just how they would balance the loss, whether by reduced local budgets or increased local taxes.

The GOP leaders were reported to have agreed on placing the $57,000,000 budget cut suggestion before the Senate and House caucuses. From that point, GOP leaders said, the decision is "up to the public."

The proposed cuts were discussed last night at a lengthy conference of GOP legislative leaders as the Assembly awaited submission of a long-delayed tax study report.

The tax study report, to be presented later in the day, placed the tax and economy issues side by side in the Legislature.

Advance indications were that the report listed a dozen levies available for state taxation—but without backing any of them.

The dozen levies listed by the tax report as available sources of revenue included taxes on personal incomes, sales, head tax on adults, soft drinks, cigars, amusements, pari-mutuel betting, unincorporated businesses, meals, hotel rooms, gas and electric bills and telephone and telegraph bills.

The cuts proposed in the education appropriation were: Suspend payment to local school districts to meet teacher salary increases, $40,000,000; changing from four to five mills the formula for state subsidies to local school districts, $48,000,000; changing formula for state subsidies to local school districts for kindergarten, one room schools that have been closed, and pupil ratio, $18,000,000.

Other proposed budget cuts: Cut payment to state aided hospitals 10 per cent, $1,700,000. Retain all liquor license fees in state general fund, $5,700,000. Cut state aid to colleges and universities, 10 per cent, $5,300,000. Require counties to assume a part of the cost of public assistance, seven million.

Reduce appropriations to state government departments by a total of 30 million dollars; of this amount, agreement already has been reached on cuts of about 12 million dollars.

STASSEN AIMS ACCUSATIONS AT M'CARTHY

Washington (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, mutual security director, today accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and the Senate Investigations Subcommittee of "undermining" the work of executive agencies seeking to cut off trade between the West and Iron Curtain areas.

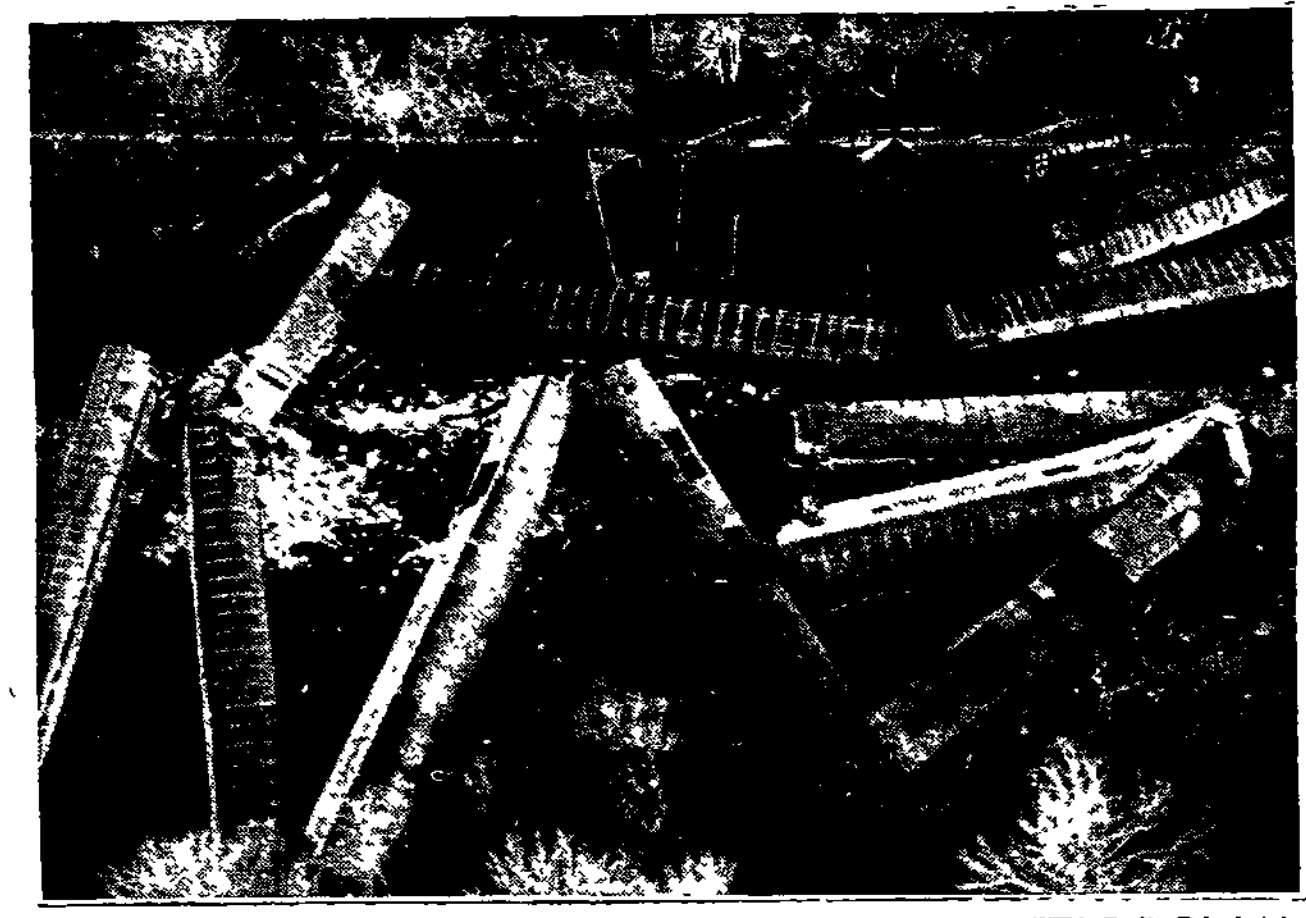

"You are in effect undermining and are harmful to our objectives," Stassen told McCarthy to his face at a televised hearing of McCarthy's subcommittee.

There was a sharp edge in Stassen's voice as he spoke. Stassen was referring to McCarthy's announcement Saturday that the subcommittee staff had negotiated an agreement with Greek owners of 242 ships that they would break off all trade with North Korea and Communist China.

McCarthy's move had raised a constitutional question, since it is the President who is charged with the conduct of foreign affairs under the Constitution.

It was not clear whether McCarthy's subcommittee, in bypassing the executive branch of government to negotiate an agreement with foreigners, had infringed upon presidential prerogative.

The State Department announced that Greece already has put into effect a new order prohibiting Greek-flag ships from trading with the Communists.

HOW CRASH SCATTERED CARS—This aerial view shows how the freight triple wreck near Conneaut, Ohio, scattered like toys the cars of the New York Central freight and two passenger trains involved. At least 20 persons are dead, and more than 100 injured, as the result of the initial derailment caused by a section of pipe which fell from a passing freight.

RED OVERTURE IS BREAK IN TRUCE TALKS

Tokyo (AP) — Red China Premier Chou En-lai tonight offered a compromise solution to the knotty problem of repatriating Korean war prisoners — the only issue blocking an armistice agreement.

It was the first break in the Reds' previously - unyielding demands that all prisoners be returned.

Chou proposed that both sides return those prisoners who insist on going home and hand over the others to a neutral state "to insure a just solution to the question of their repatriation."

The United Nations walked away from Panmunjom last fall after telling the Reds to accept the principle of giving prisoners their choice of returning home — or come up with an acceptable solution.

Chou's offer — similar to plans advanced in the United Nations assembly — came in a broadcast heard here, over the Communist Peiping radio.

The Reds had made an earlier overture Saturday, accepting a Feb. 22 U. N. proposal for exchange of sick and wounded war prisoners and asking that the truce talks be resumed. The U. N. has not yet answered the Saturday proposal.

The U. N. has been cautiously studying this Red acceptance and has given no indication of when it will answer.

The truce talks — started in July, 1951 — finally broke down Oct. 1, 1952, over a U. N. demand that prisoners be given a choice whether they want to return to their homelands.

The letter was the first Red move since, and it set off a welter of wondering.

REDUCTION IN FOREIGN AID CONSIDERED

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported by congressional leaders today to be planning a cut in foreign aid spending.

Senate Republican Leader Taft and House Speaker Martin said there has been no determination yet on the amount of the cut, but that there definitely will be a reduction from the $7,500,000,000 proposed by the Truman administration for foreign aid in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Taft and Martin held a news conference immediately after their weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Taft said Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen is having a study made to find out whether $10,000,000,000 in foreign aid carry-over funds can be cut.

Stassen sat in with the congressional leaders at their conference with Eisenhower.

Taft and Martin also announced: 1. The President would send to Congress later in the day a special message asking creation of a commission to study federal-state relations on such matters as taxes, grants in aid and social security. (Turn to Page Ten)

Stirring Address Is Delivered at Holy Week Service

Attendance at today's community Holy Week service, the first of four to be held in First Baptist church in Market street, was very encouraging to the sponsors, Warren County Ministerial Association, nearly doubling that recorded at the initial service last year.

With Rev. Leland Hine presiding, and offering the prayer and scripture reading, the service featured the first of four sermons to be delivered by Bishop G. D. Batdorf, Dayton, O., for many years a prominent figure and area bishop in the United Brethren denomination, later the Evangelical United Brethren church.

With "Holy Week in a World Like This" as his general theme, Bishop Batdorf spoke today on "The Altar of Religion in a Broken World." Basing his remarks on the scriptural passage of Daniel praying daily in his chambers, with his face to the temple, the Bishop stressed the importance of regular attendance at the altar; the power and influence of religion on the history of the world — past, present and future; and particularly emphasized the importance of religion in the home and religious training of the child in his early, formative years.

Mrs. Carl E. Whipple was at the organ for opening and closing numbers to accompany the hymn, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus."

Rotary Club members had a sizeable delegation in attendance prior to their noonday luncheon at the YWCA and will be followed each day by regular service club attendance.

Preparatory to the Holy Week observance, Bishop Batdorf spoke to a capacity house in First Baptist church last evening, occasion of a union service also sponsored by the ministerial group.

Palm Sunday morning, he was guest preacher in First Evangelical United Brethren church.

Village in Indiana Almost Wiped Out By Ammo Barrage

Lewis, Ind. (AP)—Demolition squads worked their way today through the desolation left in this little coal mining town by a night-mare of fire and flying shrapnel from three freight car loads of exploding ammunition.

Scarcely a half dozen houses remained habitable in this town of 300 population after the five hours of explosions touched off by a train derailment Saturday night, but no one was killed. Fifteen persons were injured, but only three went to hospitals.

In the big crater which blocked both the railroad branch line and a state highway lay the twisted wreckage of uncounted freight cars. The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad reported 24 cars unaccounted for. The front and tail end of the 107-car freight train were pulled away from the inferno of fire and flying artillery shells.

A spokesman for the Chicago Army Ordnance district said intense heat could set off the shells, though their uncut fuses would make them almost non-explosive by impact.

Railroad Officials Estimate $1,000,000 Property Damage In Triple Crash Killing 21

Erie (AP)—New York Central Railroad officials estimated today that property damage alone will total more than $1,000,000 in a triple train crash which killed 21 passengers and injured about 150.

After a 10-hour rest, wrecking crews resumed work today to clear the twisted wreckage of two passenger trains and a freight.

Two tracks on the railroad's main east-west line have been opened to traffic. Officials hope to have all tracks restored by tomorrow night.

Only one of the 21 persons killed in the pileup late Friday night just inside Pennsylvania, four miles east of Conneaut, O., is unidentified. The victim is a woman about 30 years old.

More than 60 of the injured remain in hospitals here and in Ash-tabula, O., and Conneaut. Three are in serious condition. They are Harold Ballman, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Elsie Dickout, Kenmore, N. Y.; and Clayton Miller, Middlebury, Ind.

Erie (AP)—Pennsylvania identified dead in the Conneaut, O., train wreck as listed by the Erie County coroner's office and the New York Central system:

Colburn, Emma Grace, 16, daughter of Mrs. Bess Wallace, Westfield, N. Y.

Cutri, Mrs. Joseph, Erie.

Henderson, Tom, Erie, New York Central laborer.

Quinn, Mrs. Ethel, Erie.

A brunette woman of about 30, is in Erie County morgue still unidentified, and what may be parts of yet another body are unidentified and must be examined by a pathologist.

Two Meet Death in Electric Chair at Bellefonte Prison

Bellefonte (AP)—Two convicted killers from Westmoreland County in Western Pennsylvania were the 328th and 329th persons to die in Pennsylvania's electric chair in a double electrocution today.

Donnick Daverse, 40, sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of his wife, Theresa, on April 11, 1947, was the first to die. He was pronounced dead by Dr. J. G. Viexell of Bellefonte at 12:35 a. m. just five minutes after being led into the death chamber.

Joseph Stevenson Phillips, who was convicted last Aug. 15 in the slaying of a night watchman during an attempted robbery at a brick company in Derry Township, was pronounced dead seven minutes later, at 12:42 a. m.

Executioner Frank L. Wilson began the first double execution in the state since February, 1952, by turning on the 2,000 volts of electricity at 12:32 a. m. for Daverse. He repeated the performance at 12:39 for Phillips.

The Rev. Richard Walsh accompanied Daverse and the Rev. Ted Voorhees went with Phillips. Both priests spent some time with the men in their cells during the day. The bodies were claimed by relatives.

Three Aboard Large Bus Killed in Collision

Salem, O. (AP)—An American Airlines bus carrying nine passengers collided with a steel-laden truck early today six miles northwest of here killing three men and injuring six bus passengers.

The patrol said the truck, leased by the Kaplan Trucking Co. of Cleveland, was traveling north on highway 14 and sheared off the side of the southbound Toledo-Steubenville bus. The truck caught fire and McNary was trapped in the cab.

The five injured were taken to Salem City Hospital.

Easter Oratorio Sung Before Capacity Crowd

First Presbyterian church, including the large Sunday school room, was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon for the very beautiful presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" by Organist-Director Carroll A. Fowler and his augmented choir of 50 voices.

Embodying principally the Easter portions of the great oratorio, many of the selections were the lesser-known melodies, but all were done with solemnity and beauty befitting the approach of the Easter season.

Solos by Mrs. E. R. Sanford, Robert Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Borg were very well done and Mr. Fowler played a beautiful organ accompaniment.

Dr. Robert S. Steen, pastor, was in charge of opening and closing portions of the service, with the offering taken between the two portions of the oratorio. At the close of the "Messiah," the choir sang the familiar Seven - Fold Amen to conclude a beautiful contribution to the Palm Sunday observance.

Sheffield Students Make Good Showing

Director Loren B. Wright reports that through ratings received in the district contest at Clarion over the weekend, a number of Sheffield High School musicians have earned the right to compete in finals of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League at University of Pittsburgh late in April. Sheffield students and their ratings were as follows:

James Vile, trumpet; and Nancy Andrews, alto sax, both superior; Elizabeth Ann Borden, Kay Daniels and Linda Boardman, girls' trio, excellent; Harriet McElhat-ton, Jean Saxton, Ronald Kasa-back and Larry Fitzgerald, mixed quartet, excellent; Frances Jagar, baton twirler, excellent; Carol Anderson, baton, good; Merle Andrews, baritone, excellent; James Hedman, tenor, and Kay Daniels, alto, good; High School Choir, excellent.

Also listed among those who were given top ratings and are eligible for the finals was Le-Vonne Speas, of Youngsville High School.

Smethport took top honors in the Western Division, with 13 first places, with Clarion, Johnsonburg and Bradford having five each as the nearest competitors.

Red Cross Fund Drive Is Still Short of Quota

With the annual Red Cross campaign in Warren county due to be concluded tomorrow, it was reported by Ralph Sires, assistant campaign chairman, this afternoon, that $23,710 has been received against the 1953 quota of $25,119.

Mr. Sires said that while Youngsville, Clarendon, Bear Lake and Lottsville returns are not yet in, and expected momentarily, it is not anticipated that the entire quota will be met. Approximately $2,000 was added this year to aid the gamma globulin project, and while the contributions will be greater than last year, this $2,000 will not be realized.

Mr. Sires said, also, that future contributions by donors, even after the close of the drive will be deeply appreciated.

Two HELD IN FATAL NEW CASTLE STABBING

New Castle (AP)—Two men are being held on an open charge today in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Blanche Lee, 38, Saturday in front of her home.

Police arrested Jerry Lee, 44, the woman's husband, and John Robinson, 38. Both deny any knowledge of the stabbing. Coroner Charles Allen said Mrs. Lee was stabbed twice.

World War I Veteran Dies Suddenly Today

Milton L. Witz, 61, lifelong resident of Warren, died suddenly at his home, 107 Sixth avenue, this morning about ten o'clock. Although he had been under a physician's care since the first of the year his condition was not considered serious, and his unexpected passing is learned with profound sorrow by a host of friends. Born in Warren September 11, 1891, he was married in 1916 to Hazel Rapp, of this city, who survives with his step-mother Mrs. Hattie Witz. His parents and a brother preceded him in death.

Mr. Witz, a machinist at the National Forge & Ordnance Co. for the past 20 years, served two years in the Armed Forces during World War I. He was overseas 18 months. Mr. Witz was a faithful member of the First Lutheran church, also affiliated with the American Legion, Forty and Eight, Warren Lodge of Odd Fellows, Kosuth Encampment No. 98, I. O. O. F., and Warren and Forest Council No. 1, of the Past Grand's Association. Because of his illness he was last week installed by proxy as chief patriarch of the encampment.

Plans for the services, in charge of the Peterson Funeral Home, will be announced later.

Win-Engined Cessna Purchased for Airport

W. F. Maier, manager of Warren Municipal Airport, expects a win-engined Cessna to arrive here Tuesday for use in his passenger service from Warren to other points. While Mr. Maier hoped to have the plane over this last week-end, it is still at Port Erie where it is being re-licensed and undergoing a thorough maintenance inspection.

Since disposing of his Fairchild, Mr. Maier has had only a student training plane, a Rocket trainer, and the new ship, which has a cruising speed of 140 miles per hour, will provide excellent and speedy transfer of passengers out of Warren. It will carry five passengers.

Damp and Silent Crowds Pay Last Homage to Queen Mary

London, (AP)—Damp and silent crowds filed through Westminster all today to pay last homage to Queen Mary.

It rained intermittently. There was a nip of cold in the gusty breeze. Mourners who came in thousands splashed through puddles on the pavement of Parliament Square and the New Palace yard in front of the hall where the Queen lies in state.

The throng was not as overwhelming as the crowds which went to the same place to pay respects to King George VI 13 months ago. Weather discouraged many. Others were content with the television broadcast of the scene last night.

But by early afternoon, persons were passing at the rate of 4,000 an hour. It was expected that by the time the body is removed for the funeral service at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, tomorrow about 100,000 will have come personally to say farewell to the 85-year-old Queen, who was a venerated member of the British royal family through six reigns.

The thinning ranks of Europe's royalty began arriving for tomorrow's funeral.

Two DIE IN CRASH

Mt. Holly, N. J. (AP) — Two Philadelphia men were killed today when their auto sideswiped an on-coming car, careened into a field and hit a tree, state police said.

They were tentatively identified by police as Joseph A. Kodes, 58, and Harry Sirorine, 47.

Citizens Fail to Benefit Through the Jaycees Pedestrian Safety Campaign

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has completed its pedestrian safety campaign and most Warren residents seem to have gotten right back into their regular Jaywalking habits without any difficulty. The JayCee Mystery Jaywalkers had a variety of experiences being identified. Some of the Jaywalkers crossed the street once and were immediately identified. Others walked back and forth across the business streets in town but created no interest as Jaywalkers.

Early Saturday afternoon was very profitable for Ralph "Barney" Pasquino. Sitting in his car in front of the Home Spun Inn he identified Mystery Jaywalker Merle Seymour and was awarded $2.00. In about five minutes, Dr. John Lasher walked out of the Blue and White across the street and was also identified by Barney Pasquino for a total of $4.00 in five minutes.

Other Mystery Jaywalkers identified on Saturday included Allan H. Buerkie who was identified at 11:40 a. m. by Mary Ann Moniak, of Youngsville. At about the same time Nick Wendelboe, Jr., was identified by Curtis Johnson of Jackson Avenue Extension. Liberty Street between 2nd and 3rd was the number one spot for both official and unofficial Jaywalkers and it was there that Chuck Still of 310 Beech street, identified Mystery Jaywalker Abe Swartz on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Jayne Schneck had a terrible time being identified as a Mystery Jaywalker. Combining shopping with jaywalking she crossed and recrossed through traffic several times, each time receiving glances that seemed to say, "And all the talking your husband has been doing about Jaywalking!" Finally, Mrs. Albert Sidon of R. D. No. 3, mentioned this fact and received the $2.00 award.

The JayCee Safety Campaign was given valuable assistance by the co-operation of the following insurance companies which donated money for the prizes: W. A. Alexander & Son Insurance Co.; B. V. Lesser Insurance Co.; Farm Bureau Insurance Co.; John Fowley, agent; State Farm Insurance Co.; Peter F. Horning, agent; Wm. F. Taylor Agency; Warren County Insurance Agency; Paul W. ## Pitt Glee Club Heard By 900 In Variety Show at Hospital; Also Featured at Consistory

Warren State Hospital's new Carl Rosequist, Harold Check and Recreation Building was the scene of a marvelous program of entertainment, Friday night, when a concert by the University of Pittsburgh Glee Club was combined with a variety show for the entertainment of no less than 900 patients and employees.

Under the direction of Dr. Weise, director of music at Pitt, the 51 young men in the glee club provided an hour and a half of grand vocal music. The group was brought here through the efforts of Lewis McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce McCullough, Hatch Run road, Mr. McCullough being farm superintendent at the hospital. Lewis is a Junior at Pitt and is business manager of the club.

The variety show was well arranged and won much applause. Organ accompaniment to start off the glee club performance and for the show was provided by Lloyd Van Tassel, director of music at the hospital, with Joseph Gardner, acting as master of ceremonies. An operating room skit, done in lighter vein by the affiliated nurses, was hilarious. Numbers by Miss Helen Olson of Warren, violinist, and Mrs. Edith Heller of Warren, mezzo soprano, were much appreciated. "Little Miss Lawson," a diminutive impersonator, did extremely well with her numbers, especially in imitating Johnny Ray. Tim Wise of Youngsville, playing the piano flute, was another sensation. Even the Florida Sextette, the toast of the Gay Nineties, was not overlooked. These fair and now somewhat elderly damsels being impersonated by Ernie Anderson, Jack Smith, Pitt buses, en route back to

Financing of New School Raises Many Questions at Corry

Corry Journal: In view of the week's developments in which financing of the $2,300,000 joint junior-senior high school has encountered what could become something insurmountable, the natural question of what will happen in the event a new school is not constructed has been raised.

Following is a list of major questions and answers compiled from information brought out at both Authority and Joint Committee meetings.

Question: How will we accommodate the students?

Answer: The big jam will start in 1954-55 in the Junior and Senior High Schools and it will probably be necessary to go on partial sessions there. This would involve part of the students going to class in the afternoon with a lengthening of the school day.

Question: Could the cost of the building be cut?

Answer: The rate of 84 cents per cubic foot is about as low as Pennsylvania schools are being built.

Question: Could architectural changes be made, eliminating some sections of the building?

Answer: Such a move would probably involve a complete redesigning of the building along with submission of plans to Harrisburg and calling for bids. Basically, a repeat of all the processes which have been gone through over the past year.

Question: How much will it cost the six districts in the event the plans are not used?

Answer: Costs to which the districts are committed involve the architect, legal fees, some property acquisitions and other items with the total being around $110,000. These must be paid regardless of whether a school is built.

Historical Society Finds Important Old-Time Documents at Court House

MRS. FRANCES RAMSEY is shown above inspecting documents found in the court house basement.

Warren County residents can congratulate their county officers for not disposing of "junk" in a hurry!

It happened like this. County offices in the courthouse, in desperate need of more room for storing official records, decided to dispose of an accumulation of papers that were packed in old cartons in a corner of the court house cellar. Many of them had been partially burned in the fire of 1849.

Before letting go of the papers, they called in the Warren County Historical Society and Mrs. Frances Ramsey has spent seven days going over the documents in detail. If she had not done so, here are some of the records that would have been lost to Warren County forever.

(1) Complete muster roll of the county for the Civil War, dated 1862, and divided by townships. Ages of all males, as well as their occupation and residence is shown.

(2) Complete file giving the story of the creation and final ruin of Lumberman's Bank.

(3) Original affidavits pertaining to the Jacob Hook murder trial.

Penn State's Doc Gross Talks Basketball to Upper Allegheny League Banquet at Tionesta

A banquet in honor of the Upper Allegheny Valley league all-stars was held at the Dew-Drop-Inn in Tionesta Friday night, when the 40 persons present enjoyed a sports talk by Penn State basketball coach, Dr. Elmer Gross.

The affair was very well handled by the host school at Tionesta and a hope for continuance of the program was expressed by all present, the all-stars, their coaches and other school authorities.

The invocation preceding the dinner was given by H. C. Seigworth, principal of Tionesta High School. Before the start of the program W. E. "Bill" Bowser, West Forest coach of Tionesta, gave the welcome and introduced the toastmaster, Richard Finley, East Forest coach and former Warren high cage star.

In introducing Finley, Bowser said him a very high compliment for the work he has done at East Forest in building up sportsmanship and good teams during his last two years there.

Finley did a very capable job in his emcee role and commented on the fine cooperation that has been conducted in the UAVL during the last season and complimented the players on the sportsmanship they had shown.

Karl Seiffert, principal of East Forest schools, then presented medals to the all-star, Art Atkin, Bob Schwab, Lyman Morrison, Jack McIntyre and Pete Buckington of Tidioute; Bud Seiffert, Jack Deible, Bob Gettig and Dick Feltman of East Forest; Bud McWhinney, Dallas Haight, Dick Wood, Stub Meabon, and Jim Pearson of Youngsville; Baker and Dick of West Forest; and Wadell and Thompson of Pleasantville. Keith Sweeney and Gail Frank of Sugar Grove, were not able to be present.

Outward injuries consist of lacerations of the left hand and severe bruises of the left shoulder and knees. City police, who investigated, said that Decker was driving east on Pennsylvania avenue and made a left turn into the driveway of the Reliable Furniture Company, striking the elderly man as he crossed the sidewalk. Police also reported that the windshield and windows of Decker's car were very muddy. Decker will be charged with reckless driving, they said.

CURBING JAYWALKERS

In connection with the Traffic Safety campaign waged by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce last week it is interesting to note that the Pennsylvania Automotive Association is behind legislation to curb "jay-walkers" on city streets.

The association's safety committee at a meeting in Harrisburg last week approved a move to seek legislation encouraging municipalities to adopt local traffic regulations.

Paul Ruch, Clearfield, presided at the safety committee meeting. The association represents 3,200 automobile dealers and 1,000 repair shop operators throughout the state.

T. Elmer Transeau, director of the State Bureau of Highway Safety, reported that pedestrian deaths in traffic accidents now are averaging about 500 annually as compared to 1,000 in 1941.

"While we have had a steady decrease in pedestrian fatalities in the state approximately 70 per cent of those killed are at fault because of contributory negligence," said Max W. Schmidt, co-ordinator of the governor's Safety Advisory Committee.

Transeau said the statistics show the average citizen today is more careful about the way he uses the streets, but added:

"I feel definitely that the time has come to insist that pedestrians for their own good be made to obey the directions of police officers as to crossing the streets and likewise obey traffic signals."

"THANKS, YOU SAVED MY LIFE"

The following, prepared and distributed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., with the cooperation and advice of the American Red Cross, Department of Defense and Federal Civil Defense Administration, is printed in the hopes that it will help promote interest on the part of prospective donors in the visit of the Bloodmobile at the Lexington avenue plant of the Sylvania Electric, Inc.:

You may never hear the words "Thanks, You Saved My Life," actually spoken, but when you give blood, you know you're giving life. Call your Red Cross today --- make a date to save a life!

The blood you give may help --- a soldier in Korea ... or a civilian hurt in an accident ... a child exposed to polio ... or a baby threatened with measles ... a man undergoing surgery ... or a woman suffering from shock ... a young mother in childbirth ... or a victim of enemy attack.

The blood you give makes GG possible. GG is gamma globulin, a blood derivative. Tests sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis show that it gives temporary protection against the paralytic effects of polio in many cases.

We must have much more blood than was contributed last year. The National Blood Program needs your help!

Spiritual Diary for Lent

... By prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be known unto God.—Philippians 4:6.

Today's Message

God delights to "give good things to those who ask Him," yet many question the necessity or reason for asking of God, since He knows all things beforehand and certainly understands the needs of His children. His heart is not hardened, as many suggest, by the constant pleading of the suppliant, but rather He reminds His own, "Ye have not because ye ask not."

Since God loves deeply and compellingly, each time He meets the need of His child it is with a gift of love. No love-gift can be divorced from the love of the giver; "the gift without the giver is bare"—so with each answer to prayer. God gives Himself to His asking, needy child. Reader, when you ask of God, when you pray for Him to meet your need, then you know exactly from whence the answer comes. Soon you will recognize that "in Him we find all things."

Communion with God is the soul's greatest need; the prayer of asking is the beginning of that communion, and some need prompts the asking. So come to Him with your needs, ask of Him with grateful and expectant heart, and find a growing sense of fellowship with Him and a peace within your soul.

—ALGER WAGNER GEARY
Greenwood Baptist Church
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Today's Prayer

Gracious Heavenly Father, teach us all the facets of Thy everlasting love made plain through Jesus Christ, Thy Son. Help us to submit our cares to Thee that we may know Thee better and love Thee more. Amen.

(From "The Spiritual Diary," published by Austin-Phelps, Inc. Copyright, 1951, by Beattie Caroline Hall, Editor. Distributed by NEA Service.)

Here And There

In proclaiming the period March 29 to April 4 "Ground Observer Week," Mayor Stanley A. Weeks, of Jamestown, N. Y., "asked that all persons in the city think seriously on the vital importance of Civil Defense and its meaning to the welfare of the community and nation." He added, "Preparedness must be our byword. Volunteering for Ground Observer Service in the city will help in fulfilling a patriotic duty."

Our Good Friday issue will see the last of the Lenten series of excerpts from "The Spiritual Diary," syndicated by NEA Service appearing daily on page three since Ash Wednesday. We have had many compliments on this particular feature, with queries about the authors, and whether they may be obtained in book form. For that reason we are volunteering the following information: "The Spiritual Diary" is a beautifully printed and bound volume of 416 pages, modestly priced at $2.75, and comparable to any book published at $4.00 or more. Conceived as an inter-denominational group effort to stimulate the spirit of Christian living, this book contains the messages of more than 300 prominent ministers and laymen. There is a page for every day in the year, with a section for special religious days. Each page is a creative sermon in miniature, accompanied by an original prayer and a sacred quotation or poem. The publishers are Austin-Phelps, Inc., 200 East 37th street, New York 16, N. Y.

District Supervisor for the Liquor Control Board Charles Sontag of this city, has appealed to Harrisburg for a ruling on a question raised by two employees of the Smethport State Store as to whether they will be permitted to grow beards in celebration of Smethport's 100th anniversary this summer. Holgar Carlson, Kane, manager of the store, and Richard Lester, Smethport, want to compete in the beard-growing contest but were told that civil service regulations require male store employees to be "clean shaven."

The weekend mail brings us an invitation to be among the guests at the opening performance of the 1953 season of Mills Brothers big three-ring circus, wild animal menagerie and horse show combined, which will be followed by a press party dinner Saturday, April 18th, at Greenville, Ohio. This sounds like a very attractive affair, being staged in the home base of the circus, which is booked here under the sponsorship of the Warren Lions Club later in the summer. According to an accompanying release the circus management expects to play host to 700 invited banquet guests in the Greenville (Ohio) high school gymnasium. They will include civic, county and state officials; circus fans from a dozen states; members of the press, and committeemen from throughout the midwest and east under whom the circus will appear during the spring phase of its 14th annual tour of the nation opening in Greenville April 18th. As a special event, Ohio members of the Circus Fans Association of America, will hold their spring convention in connection with the circus opening and banquet.

Several thousand lovers of beautiful flowers who took advantage of the Palm Sunday opening at the Crescent Floral Gardens, on the south side, had an opportunity to view possibly the most colorful display of its kind ever presented in or around Warren. Sherm Offerte, proprietor, and his efficient assistants have every reason to feel proud of the exhibition. The careful training and experience necessary to present such a floral exhibit at this particular time of the year was reflected in the fact that all potted plants so popular at the Easter Season seemed to be at just the proper stage of development to assure them being in full bloom during the coming weekend. If you were unable to call Sunday, Sherm tells us visitors will be welcome any day. You will find it well worth your time to accept the invitation, for no other time during the year will you have a chance to see a botanical show to equal the one at the Crescent Floral Gardens.

AROUND THE WORLD

DOLLS DONATE DOLLS—Vivian Albright, four, and her tiny friend, Bianca Rivera, presented 60 rag dolls to the Baroness De Vos Van Steenwick, wife of the Netherlands consul general in New York. The girls, and others who attend a day school, made the dolls for youngsters in Holland, recently devastated by floods and storms, and they'll be welcomed by children over there.

THIS IS THE PROOF—A week-end crowd forms a long line at the entrance to the Eiffel Tower's elevators, after several days of balmy weather in Paris. The idea is to get up on one of the tower's many platforms to enjoy the beautiful view of the city, as well as the fresh air. This is one of the most popular tourist attractions in Paris, and is also popular with the French.

THIS IS HER CHANCE—Jill Hollingsworth, 18, discusses a movie script with actor John Ireland in Hollywood. Jill has been given her first movie role while her mother is currently serving a jail sentence for embezzling $25,000 from a Detroit firm to further her daughter's acting career.

THE HORSEY SET—Under the clothes lines heavy with laundry, horses gather on their balcony in London to gossip—or so it appears. Two riding schools have stables in this building near the Palace Gate. The horses get upstairs by trotting up a cobbled ramp. They've been doing it like that for 60 years in this same neighborhood, so it's getting to be a habit.

SOMETHING NEW—Flirtatious topping for a gala ball gown, Lucille Manguin's brief plaid jacket sports a sash that finishes in fan-shaped drapery in Paris. The jacket wraps snugly about bare shoulders for warmth and the sash provides the age-old foil for a pretty coquette who knows she's the center of all eyes.

BABY LESSONS—Selective Service chief Gen. Lewis Hershey, left, is definitely not robbing the cradle in Washington, although it might appear that way. He's engaged in a diaper-changing contest with singer Pfc. Eddie Fisher, right, and they're both doing their chores with dolls at a Red Cross campaign luncheon. Bachelor Fisher came in second to Gen. Hershey, but the latter is a father and undoubtedly knew a thing or two about what he was doing, and how to do it.

A GOOD, LONG REST—Yogi Berra, who entered a huge glass cage in Linz, Austria, last December, pierces his tongue with a dagger for astonished onlookers. Berra plans to stay in the glass until next December, and is now on a tour of Germany. He lives on three vitamin tablets, two apples and one pint of liquid per day, and sleeps in a horizontal position at night.

IN THE FREE WORLD

FLOCKING IN—A workman is feeding the big boiler which heats the refugee registration office in Berlin, top photo, that screens the 41,000 East Germans who last month escaped to the West. While their parents are away for registration and screening, children play a game under the supervision of a teen-age refugee girl who watches the youngsters, below.

BABY TIME—Refugee mothers play with and care for their infants in the nursery of one of the many West Berlin refugee camps. Apart from their youngsters, the one thing that ties together these men, women and children is their mutual desire to escape Soviet domination, and their hope for freedom.

HERE THEY ARE—Although screen star Julia Adams was chosen last year as the girl with the best legs in Hollywood, she has never yet shown them on the screen. Julia is invariably covered with crinolines and a bustle in costume pictures, but here's the proof that she does have legs.

TIME OF YOUR LIFE—That's the way to describe Comparsa Night in the Republic of Panama, when entire groups wear costumes representing a particular theme. Here, Queen Aurita is greeting guests at the Hotel El Panama. Her headdress is an arrangement of coral and seaweed, and the courtiers are dressed as mermaids and mariners for a real fun time.

Tru Balance® GIRDLES
with patented diagonal control

The two most important words ever used to describe a girdle are "diagonal control". They do not really describe the girdle you are wearing unless it is a Tru Balance, because only Tru Balance gives you patented diagonal control. Two spirals of living elastic parallel your muscles to lift you in front... flatten your waist with a downward pull in back... mold you with a feather touch as no other girdle can. You stand taller naturally, move more gracefully, feel completely free and comfortable... and never have you worn clothes so glamorously as you will in your first Tru Balance girdle.

For the topics announced reveal God as active in this confused world.

This evening the topic, "The Apostasy of the Church," will answer the question as to whether or not apostasy is the breeding ground for corruption, cults and isms, and delinquency. Tuesday evening, "Is Prophecy Being Fulfilled Today?" looks at some of the momentous events of our time, the return of the nation of Israel, the atom and the hydrogen bomb. Wednesday's topic deals with "The Tribulation Period." Will Christians go through it? Thursday, "The Battle of Armageddon," why will it be fought over the Jew and Palestine.

TWO-TO-FOUR CLUB ENJOYS BOOK REVIEW

Members of the Two-to-Four Club of the YWCA thoroughly enjoyed the humorous book review of "Snips and Snails", given by George Spinney Friday afternoon in the activities building. In her book, Louise Baker tells of her life as the only woman teacher in a boy's school where she was responsible for eight wealthy cherubs of eight and nine years of age, as well as for the wishes of their parents. Anyone who has raised or taught boys that age would appreciate her trials, tribulations, and pleasures.

After being served home-made angel food cake with chocolate sauce and nuts by the committee, members of the Club voted to pledge $25.00 toward the World Fellowship goal of the YW. In an effort to raise this amount the members will hold a white elephant sale at their next meeting and all members are urged to attend and participate. The packages are to be wrapped.

Vera Lauffer was chairman of this month's committee and was assisted by Lavina Koebley and Isabel Yeagle.

Printz Co. Has Opening Of New Franklin Store

Franklin News-Herald: Several hundred persons visited the newly remodeled and redecorated Franklin Prints Co. store Wednesday evening and there were many expressions of amazement for the accomplishments in converting the spacious store into one of the most beautiful and well-stocked establishments of its kind in this section.

During the hours of 7 to 9 there was a continuous stream of people through the store. They viewed with good feeling the fine displays of wearing apparel for men, women and children that are shown to best advantage from the new cases, shelving and racks. The store has been completely departmentalized and made more convenient for patrons.

Two $50 merchandising bonds were awarded as door prizes this morning. Dr. T. A. Eselman, the first customer in the store today, had the honor of selecting the names of the winners: Mrs. Floyd Dodd, of 1169 Otter Street, and William H. Beatty, of 234 Pacific Street.

Representatives of the other eight Printz stores were assisting the Franklin employees in escorting the visitors through the establishment. Plumer Printz, of Jamestown, N. Y., president of the firm, and Fred Printz, of Warren, vice president, were among those in attendance.

Many of the manufacturers with whom the Printz Co. trades sent flowers and telegrams of congratulations.

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 28

GREAT was the excitement around the old hotel. Almost split into two camps. There were those who felt that Ephraim Carlisle would make a good mayor for the simple reason that he was a good hotel manager. On the other hand, there were those who'd been greatly impressed by Langley and Dan Curtis. As Miss Plunkett summed up their feelings in her bugle-like tones: "They're rich men. They don't have to grub for a living. Therefore the hospital will be properly run at a cost all can afford to pay."

Yet Captain Johnny Lord had a different view of that when he called Saturday evening to take Ruth to the mass meeting. "It's cockeyed, Ruth. Here's a fellow who could be going back to New York in the fall. I don't know how much his uncle makes, but if Dan Curtis is his agent he must get at least ten per cent of those earnings. So why does he want to stay here? He won't ever make the money here that he can make in radio."

"Perhaps he's a doctor who wants to be a doctor."

"Bob washed up, Ruth?"

She wished Johnny would stop looking at her that way. She wasn't a monster! She hadn't betrayed anyone! She'd never given Bob reason to hope she'd marry him!

"I never loved him, Johnny. I like him very much. But beyond that—"

To her relief, they reached the park.

But she discovered an unusual thing as she glanced around at the crowd. Most of the people there were merchants and their families, farmers and white-collar workers. The fishermen were conspicuous by their absence, as were the farmers' hired hands, and the lower paid people who worked in the various stores. A chill went through her. See what harm Dan had done already! By this appeal to lower emotions he'd divided the town on class lines. With practically one stroke of his pen he'd clouded the issue. Now the hospital was unimportant to these people. A deadly insult had been given, and now anger would fight, not reason. She shivered. "Johnny, this is terrible!"

HE nodded. As they found seats down front the fire-department band played a fanfare and up jumped Mayor Luigi Luchetti to the platform. The first shot of the campaign was to be answered. "My fine friends," he boomed generally, "she's a pleasure for to see you again. Me, I don't talk the English so good, but the heart, she's in the right place. You vote for me, you no vote for me. She's all the same to me. Mayor Luchetti, she's love all of you tonight."

"She love you too much," he boomed on, "for to see the taxes go up. Me, I work for the living, too. You work for the living same as me. But do we get ahead? Hah, see what the food costs! See what the shoes cost! See what the car costs! This makes me sorry for all the peoples and for Mayor Luchetti, too."

There was applause.

He denounced the Civic Betterment Society for its socialistic tendencies. He denounced the free-loaders of Fisherman's Quarter who expected the city to shoulder the costs of their filthiness. But it wasn't all denunciation. For Ephraim Carlisle announced pity rather than animosity. "For she's a good man," he told his audience. "She serve fine meals, she's a fine friend to all. She's joosts man led into deep water by another old man who deserves the city, too, for she's worn out from fifty years of being the fine doc."

It was a good show. In the days that followed Ruth heard the sentiments of the mayor repeated over and over again by his followers.

Chapter 24.

"A PRIVATE hospital can't be built and run on the same scale as the sort Doctor envisions."

"What about a city hospital and a private hospital?"

"The more the merrier, Ruth. Drat it, we're not opposed to a private hospital! We've just opposed to a business-man saying we can't have a city hospital, too!"

"And," said a voice at the window, "we're opposed to shoddy practice."

Everyone jumped. Doctor poked his head into their small cottage living-room and bent a fierce glance on Ruth's face. "I want to talk to you."

"I'm too busy, Doctor."

"This is no time for play! Thunder came into his voice. "You come out of there this instant!"

She jumped a second time. Angry, she went outdoors and walked with him across the front lawn to the bench overlooking Main Street and the ocean.

"Are you getting some rest, Doctor?"

He tossed his white-haired head. "This is my town," he said grimly. "These are my people. I've worked for them forty years, and I'll continue to work for them as long as is necessary. When the times comes I'll rest. Until then, I'll work."

"I wish Dan and you could get together."

"So do I."

This startled her. Her eyes sparkled. "Can it be that you've changed your mind about Dan?"

He said grudgingly: "Want a doctor's no good unless he's a fighter."

"That's a left-handed compliment."

"Ruth, are you good at arithmetic?"

"Very good at it, if I may say so."

"How much do you suppose a good hospital will cost?"

"Goodness, I'm not a business-man, Doctor."

"The kind I envision, Ruth, will cost around a million dollars. Add equipment and it will be another two hundred thousand dollars."

Her eyes fluttered. "But—"

"Dan doesn't have that kind of money, Ruth. At best, he'll build a twenty-bed place."

"Well—"

He shrugged. "How does the city gain? Dan Curtis gains, but how does the city?"

"He's talking of expansion as it's needed."

"The city, Ruth, needs at least a hundred beds. Golden City and environs has a population in excess of seven thousand human beings. Are you following me?"

SHE nodded thoughtfully. "Twenty beds wouldn't go very far, would they?"

"Now of course if there weren't a city hospital Dan might float a loan and build a much larger place. But seriously, don't you think there's much in favor of my plan? A good staff could be built up. Under the direction of doctors, it could be exactly the sort of place we need. Profits would be unimportant, as they'd have to be when you're dealing with the poor. There, I don't see how my position is unreasonable."

She eyed him suspiciously. "But if you're so right, Doctor, then why are you here?"

Lopez Feels Optimistic About Indians' Infield

The Chieftain of the Cleveland Tribe, Al Lopez (center), has pow-wow with his infield during spring training. Left to right: First baseman Luke Easter, rookie second sacker Doug Hansen, Lopez, shortstop Ray Boone and third baseman Al Rosen. Last season's regular second base performer for the Indians, Roberto Avila, will have to fight Hansen for the job this year.

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
Tucson, Ariz.—If manager Al Lopez is worried about this Cleveland Indian infield he doesn't show it, or admit it.

True, he tabs his infield only "fair" while he lists every other department as good or excellent. Then he adds, "our infield is not as bad as it looked last year. We're going to be all right."

Viewed from a pessimistic angle three of the four infield positions might cause trouble. Luke Easter, the hulking first baseman, has had knee trouble since his first year in the majors. Roberto Avila committed twice as many errors at second base in 1952 as in any year since he came north from Mexico. Shortstop Ray Boone had trouble defensively most of last year. Only Al Lopez at third base lived up to advance expectations throughout the campaign.

Lopez is far from pessimistic as he views his number one problem—the infield. "Easter looks much stronger," Lopez says with a grin. "He is sharper and better than last spring. Luke feels he can get off to a faster start. So do I. And don't forget that Bill Glynn, whom we bought from Sacramento last summer, looks mighty good at first."

"There isn't a reason in the world why Avila shouldn't return to his 1951 form in the field. Sure, he had his poorest season defensively, but I think he is going to be much better. Doug Hansen, a returning serviceman, is going to give Avila a real run for the second base job.

"I don't think we have any real problem at shortstop. Ray Boone had eight teeth pulled early last season. His ankles and knees were affected. Then he twisted his knee and didn't see much action for six weeks. He got off on the wrong foot again but was playing well at the close of the season. I am sure he will be a greatly improved player this year.

"We've got two other good shortstops, George Strickland who did so well for us last season, and Harvey Malmberg, whom we bought from Indianapolis last fall. One of the three is bound to come through."

"Rosen is in for a big year, in every way. He is dependable in the field and wonderful at bat."

Rosen is convinced he is going to have a better year than in 1952 when he led the American League in total bases (297) and runs batted in (105), was third in slugging and whammed 28 homers.

Rosen explained, "In the minors I used to set my hitting goal around 350 and sometimes I came pretty close to it. In the majors the fielding is much better and you're up against much superior pitching. That cuts down on your averages. But now I know I can hit 300 in the big leagues and I think I should do better. I know I have enough power."

Lopez is devoting a great deal of time to his infield, with the shortstop position getting a bit more than its normal share.

Boone is generally on the field early, absorbing tips from Lopez and other members of the coaching staff. After most of the Tribesmen have headed for the showers, Boone sticks around for a few extra words of advice. Psychologically he is being given every advantage, and there is a feeling he will produce.

"Weakness in the infield hurt us last year," Lopez said. "With better defenses we could have won the pennant. I think we are in for a much better season."

Softball League to Meet on April 8th; Games Begin in May

A second organizational meeting of the Industrial Softball League, which expects to start competition sometime during the middle of May, will be held Wednesday, April 8, in the YMCA.

At the last session of the league, five teams were represented to indicate a wider scope of interest than the 1952 campaign. According to league officials at least three more teams will be accepted. Any person interested in umpiring for the league this year will also be welcomed at the next meeting.

Donald Mills is the president of the Industrial League and Bill Barr is the secretary-treasurer.

NCAA Tournament Success at State; Return Is Expected

State College, Pa. (AP)—The National Collegiate A. A. wrestling tournament, a howling success financially and artistically in its return to the east, probably will be back in this section frequently.

The championships used to be regarded as virtually the private property of the Missouri Valley area, with Oklahoma and Iowa colleges taking most of the titles. They were about the only ones that considered wrestling a major sport. The University of Oklahoma will be the host next year.

The 23rd NCAA championship meet, which wound up Saturday night, not only produced the first eastern team champion, but it ended with five eastern wrestlers on top of their division and only two from the midlands.

Cornell University came up with two of the east's champions; Penn State, the team winner, and Pittsburgh and Lock Haven, Pa. Teachers with one each.

Financially speaking, the competing colleges never had it better. The four sessions drew 15,000 spectators in this small town that has gone for wrestling in a big way since Penn State began its 29-meet winning streak.

Viewers With Alarm Seem to Favor the Indians and Giants

By ED CORRIGAN
Sports writer

If you want to take the word of the experts, the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants are the teams that will win the major league pennants.

The Indians this spring have been playing the kind of baseball one would expect of a pennant contender. But then, the Indians had many observers convinced they would take the Yankees last spring.

The Giants, on the other hand are fair game for the viewers with alarm. They've been playing poorly as the statistics will show. There's no need to go through the entire list. Suffice it to say they have lost their last five games and 10 of their last 12 against major league opposition.

Durocher made no bones about being displeased with the barrage to which three of his pitchers were subjected yesterday. All told, Al Virvon, Hoyt Wilhelm and Reuben Gomez were pounded for 17 hits, including two home runs, two triples and three doubles as Cleveland beat them 15-3. They also gave up nine bases on balls.

The Dodgers and Yanks, meanwhile, went at each other with the Brooks winning out, 1-0. Johnny Podres and Joe Black held the world champions to five singles while Jim McDonald went all the way for the Yanks.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 11-7, for their 11th victory against five defeats in Grapefruit League competition. The Washington Senators, with Jackie Jensen hitting a home run and two singles to raise his batting average to .407, defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 10-7.

It took an assist in the form of four errors, but the St. Louis Cardinals, who have been having their troubles all Spring, stopped the Cincinnati Reds, 9-4.

Harry Byrd, who is trying to work his way out of the Philadelphia A's doghouse, took a step in the wrong direction when he went all the way against the Philadelphia Phils and was clubbed for a 10-6 loss.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a doubleheader. The Browns won the first, 6-4, on three runs in the ninth, while the Pale Hose, behind Tommy Byrnes' six-hit pitching took the night-cap—a seven-inning affair—5-3.

Vesling and Christensen Are On Penn State Pitching Staff; Known Here As Good Hurlers

Veteran Penn State baseball coach, Joe Bedenk, will have two Warren Countians in his mound corps for the college's 78th campaign, which opens against Lehigh on April 10. They are mainstay Keith Vesling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Vesling of Stoneham, and Richard Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Christensen, 111 Redwood street.

Yeadon Is Jubilant As State Champion; Sharon Loses, 55-43

Philadelphia — Yeadon High, Class B in enrollment figures but Class A in basketball savvy, holds its first state championship on the strength of the most eye-catching playoff drive in modern PIAA history.

The story-book drive was ended Saturday night with a hard-fought but clearly-earned 55-43 decision over Sharon's Western champions in a televised title game at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra.

Ten seconds after the opening tipoff the "Cinderella" club from just outside Philadelphia took a 2-0 lead. They went on from there, never dropping behind the highly-rated Sharon five that had been the mid-season as well as pre-tournament favorite to cop the top prize.

Discontinue Plan To Count Deer From Air

In January, the Game Commission directed that a limited area winter deer census be made in the northcentral counties of Pennsylvania. The survey was to be made from the air.

An airplane was chartered, a competent research man was assigned the job of making the count and flight plans were drawn. But the winter continued mild and the necessary layer of snow did not materialize. As a result, the Commission has been forced to discontinue its plan for an aerial count of deer in the "big woods" area.

Thorpe Dies at 64 In Modest Trailer Home in California

While playing on the gridiron for Dickinson College over 40 years ago, J. E. Leidy, Warren's dean of high school football coaches, "had little idea at that time that Thorpe would reach the fame he did." This was the statement from Mr. Leidy this morning as the sports world mourns the death of the greatest all-around athlete of the first half of this century.

The Oklahoma Indian—star of his day in football, track and field and big league baseball—died Saturday of a heart attack in his modest trailer home in suburban Lomita, Calif. Thorpe, 64, collapsed while eating dinner with Patricia, his third wife.

According to Mr. Leidy, who played against Thorpe and the Carlisle Indians while attending Dickinson, the last time Thorpe was in the section was in the middle 1940's. At that time he spoke at a District 10 dinner in Meadville, at which Leidy was present.

Mr. Leidy graduated from Dickinson in 1910 and had become a friend of Thorpe as a result of competition on the gridiron. It was customary for Dickinson and Carlisle to meet in the first game of the season and to scrimmage each other every Wednesday thereafter.

Thorpe apparently had been in good health recently and his sudden passing was a shock to his family and many friends. His widow, three daughters and four sons survive.

As Thorpe's family and friends made funeral arrangements, not yet complete, fans recalled feats of the rugged Sac-Fox Indian who first won athletic renown at the Carlisle Indian Institute early in the century.

In the 1912 Olympic games at Stockholm he won both the decathlon and pentathlon. Sweden's King Gustav V told him: "Sir, you are the greatest athlete in the world."

He made Walter Camp's "All-American" team in 1911 and 1912 at Carlisle as a runner, kicker and passer. He played professional football and baseball for 16 years, six of them in the big leagues. He also had a go at basketball and other sports.

Three years ago, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters, in an Associated Press poll, voted him the outstanding male athlete of the first half of the 20th century.

Some hard years had followed Thorpe's glory period. He died in modest circumstances. Several years ago he was discovered digging ditches. In 1951 he was shot broke in a Philadelphia hospital where he had had a lip cancer removed.

A year after his Olympic victories, it was disclosed he had played baseball in 1910 for $60 a month with the Rocky Mount club in the Eastern Carolina League. This stamped him a professional, though Jim explained he didn't realize he was breaking amateur rules.

His Olympic medals were taken away and his marks removed from the record books.

It is estimated that 60,000 civilians in Britain were killed by Nazi bombs during World War II.

IS THE TYPICAL AMERICAN INVESTOR A MAN OR A WOMAN?

Surveys inform us that it is either one. If a man, most of his time is spent at his business and he has only a little time left over for handling his investments... if it is a woman, she may have more time to attend to investment matters but she probably lacks training and experience in financial matters. Both want and need the extra income and the promise of eventual security which sound investing brings... neither is in a position to study the market... to sift... to analyze... to continually compare the changing influences which affect investment values. Obviously neither should invest at all without the benefit of professional advice.

One way to obtain that professional advice is to invest in one or more of the leading investment trust funds where your funds may be invested in many companies under professional supervision.

Phone write or visit our office for full information on any of the leading investment trust funds... no charge... no obligation.
